AROUND THE WORLD ... IN MUSIC

Sale Football Club is preparing to go around the world next year ... in music.

For the local Rotary club is planning to stage one of next summer's leading local musical events at the Heywood Road ground featuring some of the country's best young classically-trained musicians.

The outdoor event, on 26th June, would tell the story of the worldwide Rotary movement in different musical styles from some of the 200 countries and geographical areas that it now covers.

The four-hour event intends to raise funds for local charities and deserving causes as well as helping fund Rotary's national and international commitment to support people who desperately need help.

Musicians from the Royal Northern College of Music are putting together a programme of different musical styles from blues – representing the birthplace of Rotary in Chicago in 1905 – to American, European, African and eastern music... including gospel and 'pop'.

"The plan is to create a community event for all ages and family tastes, have fun and raise money at the same time ... most of which would be given back to Sale," says Graham King, president of Sale Rotary Club.
